

IN MEMORY GIVING

Instead of giving flowers, families and friends often ask that donations in memory be sent to a charity that meant something to their loved one during their lifetime. Giving in memory can be a rewarding way of celebrating a loved one's life.

Gifts in memory are very special. We hope that you will find comfort in the fact that by donating to The Pankhurst Trust (Incorporating Manchester Women's Aid), your loved one's memory can be part of the incredible story of the women who won the vote, and leave a lasting legacy of hope to women and children suffering from domestic abuse in Manchester.

There are different ways you can give in memory:

Organise a fundraising event to celebrate a life

You may wish to organise an event that celebrates your loved one through an activity or interest they enjoyed during their lifetime, and honour their memory through fundraising for The Pankhurst Trust.

Make a one-off or regular donation in memory

You can make a one-off donation or set up a monthly donation in memory of your loved one via our website.

Hold a funeral collection

If you would like to hold a funeral collection in memory of your loved one, you can send the donations collected directly to us. Please contact our Fundraising and Development Manager, Francesca Raine, using the details below for more information.

Create a tribute page in memory

If you'd like to create a more lasting tribute, you can create your own In Memory page through the JustGiving Website and ask family and friends to join you in celebrating the life of your loved one.

Every single in memory donation made enables the memory of a loved one to live on through our work at the Pankhurst Centre and with women and children across Manchester.

Thank you so much for considering a gift to The Pankhurst Trust (Incorporating Manchester Women's Aid) in memory of your loved one. We really appreciate your kindness.
